David Saxe Appointed to Judicial Screening Committee

New York, September 27, 2017 – Morrison Cohen partner David B. Saxe was appointed to New York Governor Andrew M. Cuomo’s Judicial Screening Committee for the Appellate Division, First Department.

The Committee examines, interviews and passes upon judicial applicants who wish to serve on the Appellate Division, First Department. Only those applicants who are recommended by the Committee are considered by the Governor for appointment. The Committee also examines, interviews and passes upon judges already serving on the Appellate Division, First Department, who are seeking renewal terms as well as applicants for the position of Presiding Justice when there is a vacancy in that office.

“We are proud of David Saxe’s appointment to this important committee that upholds the high standards of judicial appointments,” Morrison Cohen Chairman David Scherl said. “His unparalleled insight, wisdom and experience will enhance the work of the Committee; attributes we know first-hand and benefit from at Morrison Cohen.”

David Saxe, formerly an Associate Justice of the Appellate Division, First Department for 19 years, was recommended to the Committee by the Presiding Justice of the Appellate Division, First Department, Hon. Rolando T. Acosta. He joined Morrison Cohen as a partner in the Business Litigation Department in March 2017.
