New York, New York, July 1, 2014. Morrison Cohen LLP announced that Daniel M. McGillicuddy has joined the Firm as a partner. Dan is a highly experienced trial lawyer in both federal and state court. His broad experience encompasses all phases of complex litigation, both at the trial and appellate level. Dan handles a wide range of civil and white-collar criminal matters. Dan has first chaired more than 125 trials and hearings before judges and juries throughout the country.

As an assistant district attorney in the office of New York County District Attorney Robert M. Morgenthau, Dan was lead prosecutor and investigative counsel in more than 300 investigations of complex corporate and financial matters. Dan handled more than 800 wide-ranging criminal investigations of homicides, murder conspiracies, narcotic trafficking, money laundering, official corruption, white collar larceny, bank and securities fraud, tax evasion, forgery, commercial bribery, and OCCA offenses. He prosecuted organized crime figures for 15 years and handled multiple appeals.

Dan was a partner and then counsel at Bingham McCutchen for the last 8 years. Prior to working as an ADA, he was associated with the former white collar defense firm Obermaier, Morvillo, Abramowitz and Fitzpatrick P.C., where he handled federal white-collar criminal and civil cases involving RICO, wire and mail fraud, tax evasion, securities fraud, broker-dealer regulatory matters, and complex commercial and securities actions.

David Scherl, Chairman of Morrison Cohen, stated that, "Dan McGillicuddy is a highly experienced litigator with a distinguished career of trying high profile cases and representing clients in the areas of white collar defense, regulatory and government investigations, as well as complex civil litigation. Dan will be spearheading MoCo's new White Collar Defense and Investigations practice group. We are very pleased to be expanding into this exciting and ever growing area of practice as we believe that it will perfectly compliment our commercial litigation practice generally."
